Members of the Publishers' Press.—The latest telegraphic news from all parts of the world are received by the Daily Times up to the hour of going to press.

Frank E. Langley, Publisher.

Published Every Weekday Afternoon.

Entered at the postoffice at Barre as second class matter.

THURSDAY, JUNE 18, 1903.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

2,623

Race suicide, it is said, is not the paramount issue in Burlington. There is a strong call for two new school houses already.

The Vermont Woman Suffrage Association met, elected officers and adjourned, at Barton last week, but so far as the records show there was no movement inaugurated to disfranchise "mere man."

The report that Peter Karageorgevitch was to be king of Serbia appears to have been unfounded. He will be king in name, but instead of being king in reality, he will be a tool in the hands of two leaders of the recent revolution to be used in their machinations as they see fit. King Peter's fancied rule may be said to have petered out completely.

They've got a polite and gentlemanly set of fire-bugs in New Hampshire. Whenever they plan to set fire to a building they send out notice by postal. It has been suggested that if the fire-bugs would send along photographs of themselves with the postal cards, they would be acceptable, particularly to the police.

This spring seems to have been the season for unparalleled calamities, in which all the elements are getting in some fatal work. The loss of life by flood at Heppner, Oregon, has reached nearly 300 and the work of removing the bodies is not yet completed. At the present rate the year 1903 will pass into history as the "calamity year."

The sailor, a member of the crew of the Reliance, who ran up against the New York police the other evening, may have imagined that he was in his own ballroom on the fastest yacht afloat, but he was brought to his senses when he awoke in jail the next morning. The sailors of the Reliance should bear in mind that although the eyes of two countries are centered on them they have not been given the freedom of the world.

The confirmed drunkard draws forth the following vigorous description from the Morrisville Messenger: "Like leprosy, confirmed alcoholism is a disease, against which legislation properly may be directed. The average drunkard cares no more about a 10-day jail sentence or a 10-month work house sentence, than he does for the good advice he never heeds. His disease destroys moral sensibility. The habitual drunkard is an enemy to himself, to his family and to society in general."

Ninety-one years ago today the little American republic began to show to the "mistress of the sea" that American seamen should not be impressed into British service, against the will of those seamen. It was the beginning of the War of 1812. But if that was a sufficient cause for declaring war—and it appears to have been—the United States might with as good cause have declared war on France for that country was as much to be blamed as was England. Unfortunately, however, the little country which had only just emerged from a long war, was in no position to fight a double foe.

ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

The White Mountain express will be put on between Burlington and Portland via Montpelier June 22, which will have through parlor car to the Fabyans.

Mrs. Henry Kliney of Plainfield, has a lemon tree which possesses, besides its beautiful foliage, buds and blossoms, a lemon whose circumference is 11 1/2 inches one way and 13 3/4 the other and is still growing, although showing signs of ripening.

Mrs. Percival W. Clement, the Misses Elizabeth, Caroline, Margaret and Anna Clement and Robert Clement, who arrived at New York from Liverpool Sunday on the steamer Cedric of the White Star line, have returned to their home in Rutland. Mr. Clement will remain in New York for a few days.

Stanley Dronlette of West Cornwall, recently had a tussle with a great horned owl near the DeLong bridge in that town. The young fellow, who is about ten years old, would undoubtedly have been hurt had it not been for some passers-by who stopped and assisted the young man in catching the owl. The bird will be mounted.

Helen S. Bishop the 17-year-old daughter of the Rev. E. A. Bishop, superintendent of the Ferris Industrial school at Wilmington, Del., who was feloniously assaulted and slashed with a knife, died Tuesday as a result of her injuries. George White, the negro who is charged with the crime, does not admit his guilt. The girl died without identifying him. The Rev. Mr. Bishop was principal of Montpelier Seminary, Montpelier, for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Auld of Burlington, received a cablegram Monday announcing that their son, G. P. Auld, a paymaster in the navy, on the Bancroft, was very ill at San Juan, Porto Rico, and that an operation would probably be necessary to save his life. Inquiry by telegraph was made at the war department Tuesday and it was learned that the operation was to be performed that day. In the evening Mr. Auld was informed that the operation was finished, had resulted unfavorably, and the probability that he could recover was very slight.

Miss Jessie Bishop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bishop of Benson, died suddenly Tuesday noon at the office of Dr. Charles E. Griffin in Fair Haven of heart trouble. She has had heart trouble for a number of years and had just driven with her mother from her home in Benson to the home of Dr. Griffin for treatment. While in the office waiting for the doctor to return she was suddenly taken ill and Dr. E. B. Clift was called in, but she died in a few minutes. Her remains were taken to her home in Benson.

Summer Wall Papers.

The prettiest wall papers for bedrooms this summer are the chintz patterns with flower effects, and the cretonne chair cushions and curtains generally match, says Harper's Bazar. There is, too, an attractive wall paper of trellis work design with roses that makes a bowery, summery room and is very popular. The desk furnishings of porcelain should correspond with the cretonne of every bedroom, as also the washstand furnishings.

Israel in Russia.

"And I will bless them that bless thee and curse him that curseth thee." Thou art but One! O God, to whom we bow

In adoration,
Even as in Egypt, thou wilt hear us now.
Thy chosen nation.

Much have we sinned; far from thy face have fled,
By passion driven,
Deep our repentance; thou thyself hast said

We are forgiven.

Empires of old upon us heaped their chains,
Grievous and lasting;
Thy thunders rolled, and of their might remains
Rubble—and ashes!

Still those we taught to hold thy name in awe
Smile and berate us;
We are the leash that binds them to thy law.

Wherefore they hate us!

Vengeance is thine, yet thine is mercy too.
"Shield us, but grieve them not
Not be our prayer; they know not what they do."
Father, forgive them!"
—Arthur Guterman in Leslie's Weekly.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

Very Likely.
The Girls—The idea of him bowing to us. We don't know him.
Charley Gayboy—Perhaps he wishes we did.—New York American.

Humoring the Judge.
The prisoner laughed for mercy; played That for his best defense.
He laughed because the Judge had made A joke at his expense.
—Brooklyn Citizen.

Sheer Waste.
Mrs. Brown—It's simply a waste of time telling Mrs. Jones a secret.
Mrs. Smith—Yes; she never repeats anything she hears.—Puck.

No Relief.
If vegetarians held sway,
Meat wouldn't be so dear as now,
But then some trust would corner hay
And keep us guessing anyhow.
—Washington Star.

The Difference.
Teacher—What is the difference between a monarchy and a republic?
Pupil—Oh, the people think they run a republic.—Judge.

She Had a Sweet Tooth.
Willie fell in the molasses Barrel in the shed.
"Now, I'll lick you, Willie," His angry mother said.
—Cornell Widow.

Somewhat In Doubt.
He—Could you love me if I lost all my money?
She—How much have you to lose?—Denver News.

Where the Trouble Comes.
"All that glitters is not gold"
Is a saying trite and old.
But the thing that makes us bitter
Is we have so little glitter.
—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Necessary Precaution.

Nurse—Why, Johnnie, what a face!
And your ma's expecting company.
Johnnie—That's why I done it—to keep all them old guys from kissin' me!—New York Evening Journal.

Experiments With Submarine Boats.
Experiments are now being made by the French in their submarine boats with a material called "oxylythe," a new chemical compound which liberates oxygen freely when mixed with water. This not only purifies the air, but it burns up all animal impurities. In addition experiments are being made with a new motor to which oxylythe furnishes the fuel. If this proves successful, the prospect is at present favorable, the motor will do for both surface and under water running. Much more powerful machinery can be installed, and a large part of the heavy electric batteries can be removed.

THINGS THEATRICAL.

Francis Wilson will revive "Erminie" next season.

Louis Harrison will go into vaudeville next season.

Flo Irwin will star next season in a repertory of comedies used in the past by her sister, May Irwin.

Eleonora Duse will return to America next season and will appear in D'Annunzio and Maeterlinck plays.

Henry E. Dixey has abandoned, for the present at least, his plan to star in "The Last of the Dandies" under Miss Bingham's management.

Miss Edith Yerrington has signed with Fred Hamlin and Julian Mitchell for leading roles. She recently made her debut in "The Wizard of Oz."

Taking titles go everywhere. "The Worst Woman in London" makes her exit from the Adelphi, London, to be followed by "Her Second Time on Earth."

Klaw & Erlanger have engaged Harry Woodruff to play the part of Ben Hur in their revival of that play, which will open the New York theater in September.

James K. Hackett has bought the American rights of a play called "Punchinello," the principal part of which Mrs. Judd played in Paris and Mrs. Kendal will play in London.

LAW POINTS.

The Style of a "Dorothy Dodd"

Let us assume that your Shoes fit you. Now what next? What is most important? Unquestionably style. Demand that a Shoe shall possess style. If it has style and little else, you want it. If it has not style, but everything else, you don't want it. The Style of a "Dorothy Dodd" is unique. It cannot be duplicated by any other maker, because the "Dorothy Dodd" is a totally different construction from any other ladies' Shoe made. It holds the foot firmly at the waist—that's the instep—and prevents the toes from slipping forward, thus giving a correct poise in walking. Yet it makes the foot look nearly a whole size smaller. That's curious, and you won't believe it till you see it. Just for once try the Style of a "Dorothy Dodd." Sincerely yours,
